

Fourth European Ural Meeting

2nd until 4th of September 2011

In Upper Austria, this year in Aschach on the Danube on the “Schopperplatz”

Aschach on the Danube is situated on the exit of probably the most interesting part of the Danube. The popular Ural Rally Roadbook and also the guided group tour will lead us up the Danube with a lot of climbing twists and turns to the adjoining “Mühlviertler” mountains and the “Sauwald” (Forest). We have been busy planning the rally and guided tour since March. We can confidently say, without exaggeration, that the programme of this years’ Ural Meeting is one of the most beautiful in it’s history.

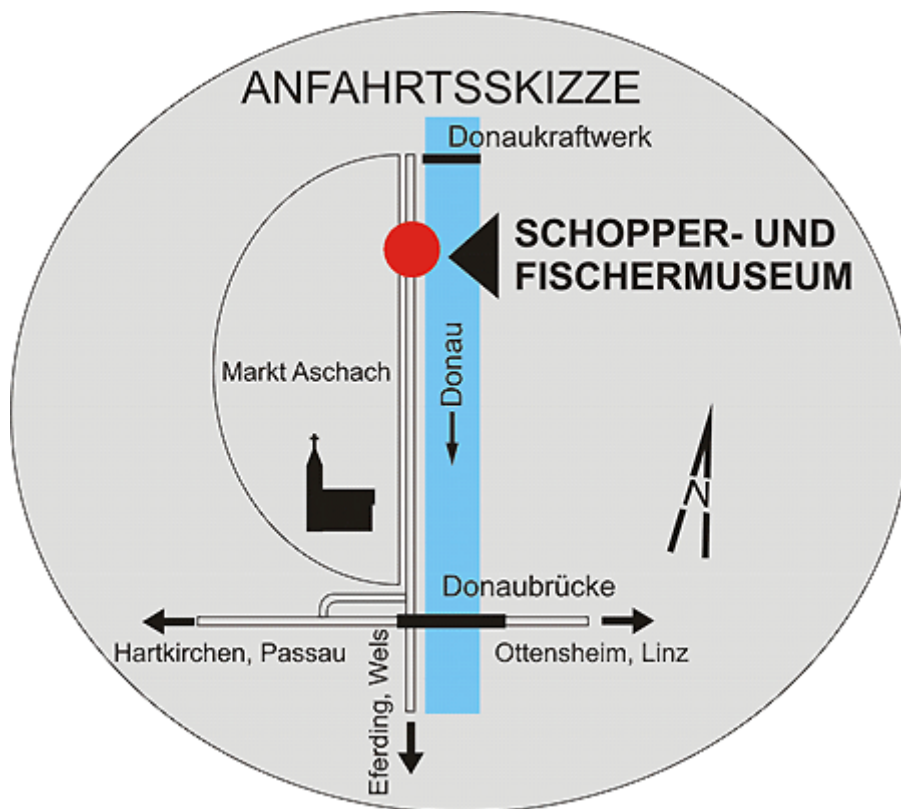

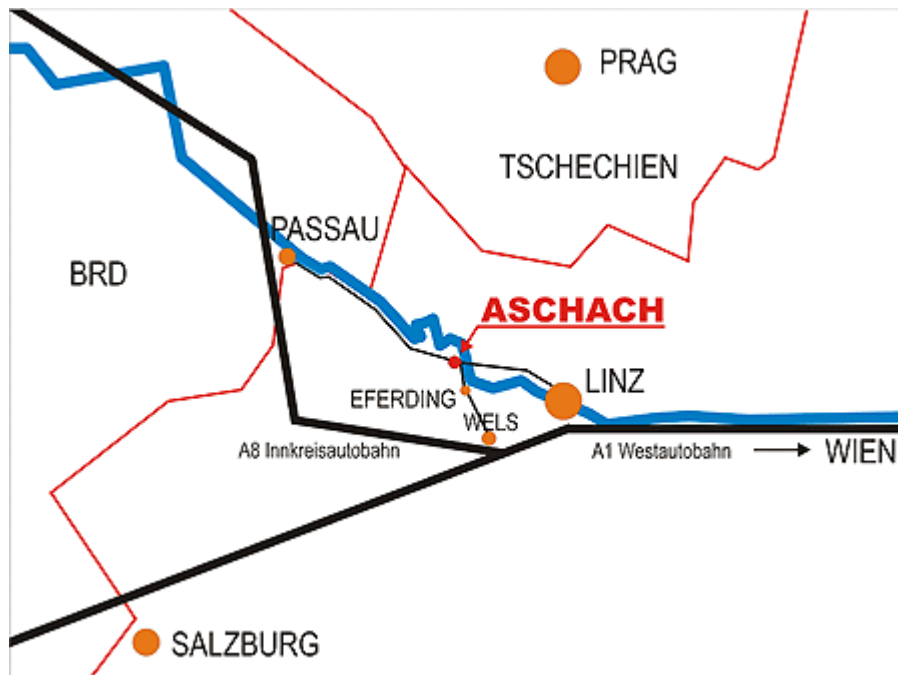

The „Schopperplatz“ was the replacement location for the First European Ural Meeting in 2008 and it was really a chance finding. It was so popular, that we decided to use this place again for this year’s event.

The “Schopperplatz” in Aschach is a historical setting for the manufacture of Danube barges. “Schoppen” is a craft that no longer exists. The word „Schoppen“ means the sealing of gaps in the boat, rafts or barges. This place is found directly on the banks of the Danube near the “Schopper” museum and offers an exciting and exceptional location for our motorcycle meeting. We can camp directly on the site, but there is not a huge amount of camping space. Therefore we have found some additional space close by and we will also offer some camp beds in rooms of the “Schopperplatz” – dormitory style. We look forward to seeing you and wish you a good journey to Austria.

Best Regards
